OLCOTT'S SYSTEM OF CORNER VALUATION

By GEORGE C. OLCOTT

The value per front foot for inside lots of an average depth in any block having been ascertained, the value of the corner lot per front foot may be arrived at with approximate accuracy by the adoption of the following rules:

On Residence Streets—To the value per foot on the frontage street, add one-quarter of the value per foot of the side street.

Thus, if the value of the street on which a lot faces has been placed at $100 per front foot for that block, and the value of the lots on the side street at $80 per front foot, the value of the corner may be safely called $120 per front foot.

In estimating the value of corner lots on any street, 50 feet is regarded as coming under the corner influence. If the 50 feet is divided up into two holdings, the corner value with few exceptions applies only to the immediate corner lot.

On Residence Streets in Transition to Business Streets—To the value per foot on the frontage street, add one-half of the value per foot of the side street.

On Business Streets Outside Downtown Center—To the value per foot on the frontage street, add the full value per foot of the side street. In no case, however, should a business corner be valued at less than 50 per cent of the frontage value.

If a transfer corner, where the intersecting car lines run at right angles for some distance and do not parallel each other partially or wholly, a fair basis to start on is the full value per foot of the values placed upon the four converging blocks added together. To this add such a percentage as may be suggested by length of distance traveled and population of tributary territory thereto of said lines. Local conditions, such as license district limits, population immediately around said corner, nearness of factory, church or school, affect corner values favorably or otherwise.

Perhaps as accurate results as by any method may be arrived at by estimating the value of all the corners on a given business street, in order to find the relative value of the particular one desired. Select the best corner on the street, then the next, and the next, to the least valuable corner. Get all the data possible, of sales and asking prices. Start from the ascertained facts and increase or decrease proportionately the value of the corners as they have been selected as better or less desirable than the ones from which the data has given a starting point.

In Factory Districts—To the value per square on the main frontage street, add three-eighths of the value per square foot placed upon the side street. Use square foot values only in factory districts.

An Introduction to the Buyer

This is always the hardest part of the bargain—meeting the man or woman who wants to buy a house, a lot or a farm.

Today there are thousands of men and women in Chicago whose ambition is to own some real estate. Many of them have saved money with this end in view—others are saving.

The problem is: Where to buy? What to buy? This is a problem that is being solved for hundreds all the time by the CHICAGO EXAMINER Want Ad and Real Estate Department.

The people of the Central West know that the EXAMINER Want Ad Section offers the best bargains in real estate to be found in any newspaper west of New York. They have learned that the EXAMINER Want Ad Section is the great realty market of the Middle West.

The EXAMINER Want Ad Section introduces buyer to you. The EXAMINER reaches over 240,000 prospective buyers every week-day; over 600,000 buyers every Sunday.

EXPLANATORY.

This book is designed by means of valuation maps to enable one to determine the approximate values of lots in each block of the city, together with those of adjoining suburbs. For this purpose the price per front foot in each block is given, for inside lots of the prevailing depth in the block under consideration. Corner valuations are not given save in the case of those of exceptional value. The territory covered embraces all of Chicago except a small portion on the south, mostly acre property and a very small and sparsely settled district on the northwest. The suburbs covered are: Wilmette, Evanston, Oak Park, Berwyn, Cicero, Clyde, Morton Park, Hawthorne, and Morgan Park.

The figures on the maps on the following pages are approximate and are designed to express as near as may be, an impartial estimate of values as evidenced by sales, bids and asking prices, together with the opinions of real estate men. Before revising each year, the territory is traveled over, local dealers interviewed and the data of sales, leases, etc., in the files of the office consulted. In this manner a consensus of opinion is obtained. It is aimed to give a careful, conservative estimate of values, based upon actual transactions which reflect a general market and not a special bargain.

Railroad and dock property are quoted by the square foot; unsubdivided lands by the acre. Valuations are intended to express the price for lots of prevailing size. Large holdings in a manufacturing district command a higher price than the same property if divided into small holdings, but if they are the exception the prices are not based upon such larger properties. The unit of size for manufacturing purposes is about 10,000 square feet.
